DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. This action is in response to the decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences filed on 31 January 2006.
2. Claims 1-29 have been examined.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-29 are allowed. See Reasons for Allowance under separate heading.

Reasons For Allowance

4. The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

None of the art of record, taken individually or combination, disclose at least the method step or system components of:

- recording data on a fixed medium in the computer system;
- providing for transfer of the computer system to the user;
- controlling access to the data in the computer system by:
- in response to receiving a first request for access to the data, contacting a party authorized to grant access to the data;
- if the party provides authorization to grant access to the data, recording the authorization in the computer system and granting a first access to the data based on the recorded authorization; and

- in response to receiving at least a second request for access to the data, granting a second access to the data based on the authorization recorded in the computer system.

More specifically, the prior art of record fails to disclose for programs already installed on a client's machine, in response to a first attempt to access the data, authorization is requested and recorded on the client's device, and that the authorization is later used to grant a second access to the data.

Claims 1-29 are distinguished over the closest prior art of Wyman who teaches that the authorization, a license, to use a software program is stored in a server. See items 10 and 14 of figure 1. Wyman teaches that the program itself is stored on the individual user devices. See item 17 figure 1. Wyman also states that when the execution of the program is completed, the handle is retrieved and returned to the server through a release allocation. See column 23, lines 31 through 37 and 61 through 64.
